Sound Affects Music is an organization with a mission to provide isolated older adults with access to music. They would like to lend their support by offering providers the following music links/resources. If you have access to TVs or computers with internet, here are some great YouTube playlists that might give the effect of some live music in the building. If you do not have access to internet for your residents, consider reaching out for ideas regarding CDs, TV channels, personal listening devices, etc.:

- Live Music of the '50s-'60s (216 videos)
